Handwritten musical score on aged paper, featuring multiple staves with musical notation and some text.

The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and clefs, written in a historical style. The score is organized into measures across several staves.

Textual elements include:

- Lyrics or titles written below the staves, such as "90" and "91" appearing multiple times.
- A large, stylized signature or initial at the bottom right, possibly reading "M. J. B. 1717".

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a continuation of the musical notation or a commentary, located on the right margin of the page. The text is written in a dark ink and is partially obscured by the edge of the page.

Handwritten musical score on aged paper, featuring multiple staves with musical notation and Persian text. The notation includes various symbols, including what appears to be a stylized '4' or '9' at the beginning of some staves, and a large '4' or '9' at the end of others. The text is written in Persian script, with some words appearing to be 'مستعد' (Mastad) and 'مستعد' (Mastad). The score is organized into several systems, with some staves having a double bar line. The paper shows signs of age, including discoloration and some staining.

Handwritten musical score on aged paper, featuring multiple staves with musical notation and Latin text. The notation includes various note values, rests, and bar lines. The text is written in a Gothic script. The score is organized into two main systems, each with multiple staves. The right system includes some staves with dense, possibly repeated, notation. The left system includes staves with text like "in nomine Domini" and "in nomine Domini".

Key features of the notation include:

- Multiple staves per system, with some staves containing dense, possibly repeated, notation.
- Use of various note values and rests.
- Bar lines separating measures.
- Latin text written in Gothic script, often appearing below the staves.
- Some staves in the right system have text like "in nomine Domini" and "in nomine Domini".

Handwritten musical score on 11 staves. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and clefs. The word "pizzicato" is written below the first six staves. The manuscript is written in a historical style, likely from the 18th or 19th century.

Handwritten musical score on ten staves. The notation includes various musical symbols such as notes, rests, and clefs. The text is written in a cursive script, likely a historical form of a European language. The score is organized into measures across the staves.

Key features of the notation include:

- Notes and rests on a five-line staff.
- Clefs at the beginning of some staves.
- Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a historical form of a European language.
- Repetitive patterns of notes and rests, suggesting a melodic or rhythmic structure.
- Some staves have additional markings, possibly indicating performance instructions or specific musical techniques.

The score appears to be a single melodic line, possibly for a vocal or instrumental part. The handwriting is fluid and characteristic of the period.
